

MUTUAL NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

This Mutual Non-Disclosure Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into by and between the parties identified below, as of the Effective Date set forth below.

Effective Date:

HomeRatesAi LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, with its principal address at 1401 Pennsylvania Ave, Suite 105A PMB 70722, Wilmington, DE 19806 ("HomeRates"),

and

Norm Steeg, an individual doing business in connection with SureFirst Lending, with an address of record at 871 Coronado Center Dr., Suite 200, OFC 204, Henderson, NV 89052, email norm.steeg@surefirstlending.com ("Counterparty"), each individually a "Party" and together the "Parties."

Background

Counterparty is a former founding member of loanDepot and led its DPLP online lead program, and is now launching an independent mortgage brokerage under SureFirst Lending (NMLS# 2820231). HomeRates and Counterparty wish to explore a potential strategic relationship, which may include Counterparty acting as an advocate and strategic partner for HomeRates, and which the Parties may in the future choose to expand into a deeper strategic partnership or founding-level relationship. This Background section is descriptive only and does not itself create, promise, or obligate either Party to any partnership, equity, employment, or founder relationship; any such relationship would require a separate, definitive written agreement negotiated and signed by both Parties.

1. Purpose

The Parties wish to explore a potential strategic business relationship, as described in the Background above, including without limitation the Purpose described below. In connection with the Purpose, each Party may disclose to the other certain non-public, confidential, or proprietary information. This Agreement sets out the terms under which that information will be protected.

Purpose (describe the specific business relationship being explored):

For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement is a confidentiality agreement only — it does not itself form a partnership, joint venture, agency, employment, equity, or founder relationship between the Parties, whether express or implied.

2. Definition of Confidential Information

"Confidential Information" means any non-public information disclosed by either Party (the "Disclosing Party") to the other (the "Receiving Party"), whether in written, oral, electronic, visual, or other form, that is designated as confidential at the time of disclosure or that a reasonable person would understand to be confidential given the nature of the information and the circumstances of disclosure. Confidential

Information includes, without limitation: business, financial, product, and technical information; software, source code, data, algorithms, and system architecture; pricing, methodology, and underwriting or scoring logic; customer, borrower, and partner information; and the existence, terms, and status of the Parties' discussions.

3. Exclusions

Confidential Information does not include information that the Receiving Party can demonstrate: (a) was already lawfully known to it without restriction prior to disclosure; (b) is or becomes publicly available through no fault of the Receiving Party; (c) is independently developed without use of or reference to the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information; or (d) is rightfully received from a third party without restriction and without breach of any obligation of confidentiality.

4. Obligations of the Receiving Party

The Receiving Party shall: (a) hold the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information in strict confidence, using at least the same degree of care it uses to protect its own confidential information of similar importance, and in no event less than a reasonable degree of care; (b) use the Confidential Information solely to evaluate and pursue the Purpose, and for no other purpose; (c) not disclose the Confidential Information to any third party without the Disclosing Party's prior written consent, except as permitted under Section 5; and (d) limit access to the Confidential Information to its employees, officers, contractors, and professional advisors who have a genuine need to know it for the Purpose and who are bound by confidentiality obligations at least as protective as those in this Agreement.

5. Permitted Disclosure

Notwithstanding Section 4, the Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information to the extent required by law, regulation, or a valid order of a court or other governmental authority, provided that, where legally permitted, it gives the Disclosing Party prompt written notice of such requirement prior to disclosure so that the Disclosing Party may seek a protective order or other appropriate remedy.

6. No License; No Obligation

Nothing in this Agreement grants either Party any license, right, or interest in or to the other Party's Confidential Information, intellectual property, or any other proprietary rights, whether by implication, estoppel, or otherwise, except the limited right to use the information for the Purpose. Nothing in this Agreement obligates either Party to disclose any particular information, to proceed with the Purpose, or to enter into any further agreement.

7. Term

This Agreement shall remain in effect for two (2) years from the Effective Date. The confidentiality obligations in Sections 4 and 5 shall survive any termination or expiration of this Agreement and shall continue for a period of three (3) years following the date of disclosure of the applicable Confidential Information, except that Confidential Information constituting a trade secret under applicable law shall remain protected for as long as it retains trade secret status.

8. Return or Destruction of Materials

Upon the Disclosing Party's written request, or upon termination of discussions regarding the Purpose, the Receiving Party shall promptly return or destroy all documents, materials, and other tangible or electronic embodiments of the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information in its possession or control, and shall certify such destruction in writing if requested, except that the Receiving Party may retain one copy solely for legal archival purposes and as required by its standard backup or record-retention procedures, subject to the continuing confidentiality obligations of this Agreement.

9. No Warranty

All Confidential Information is provided "as is." Neither Party makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of any Confidential Information it discloses.

10. Remedies

Each Party acknowledges that unauthorized use or disclosure of Confidential Information may cause irreparable harm for which monetary damages would be an inadequate remedy, and that the Disclosing Party shall be entitled to seek injunctive or other equitable relief, in addition to any other remedies available at law or in equity, without the necessity of posting a bond.

11. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to its conflict of laws principles. The Parties consent to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the state and federal courts located in Delaware for any dispute arising out of or relating to this Agreement.

12. Miscellaneous

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties concerning its subject matter and supersedes all prior or contemporaneous agreements, understandings, or communications, whether written or oral, relating to that subject matter. This Agreement may not be amended except by a written instrument signed by both Parties. If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect. Neither Party may assign this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other Party, except in connection with a merger, acquisition, or sale of substantially all of its assets. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, including by electronic signature, each of which shall be deemed an original.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have executed this Agreement as of the Effective Date.
